

PRESS RELEASE

New Kverneland Website is Live

5th September 2021, Klepp, Norway

Kverneland, producer of agricultural implements and software solutions, has launched a brand new website. With the new design, visitors can easily access and navigate the product information on ien.kverneland.com. The fresh new look includes upgraded page layouts and a modernised navigation menu with improved quick access to related product information.

The new Kverneland website highlights Kverneland's system solutions in farming, providing product features, user testimonials, videos and brochures. Next to the responsive design (suitable for any device), the site offers improved responsiveness and faster loading times.

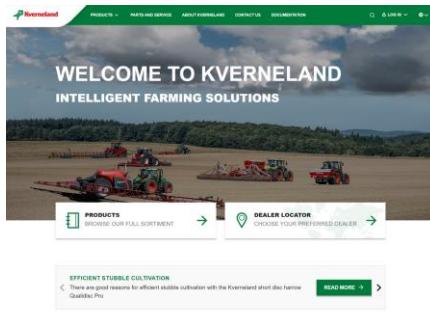

Check out the new design and new features at ien.kverneland.com.
